REX Electric and Technologies Appoints a New Senior Project Executive

Chicago, IL (August 18, 2015) – REX Electric and Technologies (www.rexelectric.com), your Chicago Electrical Contractor, announces multiple promotions in several key roles.

Jim Jaskolski, former Project Executive of Large interiors, has been promoted to Division Manager of Interior Construction. Jim joined REX in 2012 and has over 30 years of Electrical Contracting Experience. Mr. Jaskolski served as the Project Executive of the large interiors group for 3 years and before that he was the Vice President of New Construction for Maron Electric. Jim earned his Journeyman Electrician Certification in 1988 and his Masters Electrician in 1990. As Division Manager – Interior Construction, he will carry out the strategy and execution of all interior buildout projects throughout the group.

Sal Pintauro, former Project Executive of Small to Medium Interiors, is now Senior Project Executive of Large Interiors. Sal joined REX in 2005 as a project coordinator and has quickly risen to a leader in the interiors group. Mr. Pintauro brings more than 10 years of experience in Electrical Contracting. Most recently, Mr. Pintauro served as the Project Executive of small interiors group for 4 years before receiving this promotion. Sal earned his degree in Electrical Engineering from Illinois Institute of Technology in 2002. As Senior Project Executive, He will be responsible for overseeing the entire large interiors group, which entails communicating effectively with the field team, clients and his team of 6.

Mike Regan, former Senior Project Manager, has been promoted to Project Executive of Small Interiors. Mike joined REX in 2014 as a Senior Project manager for the small interiors group, prior to REX he was the President for Regan Electric. Mike earned his certification in Chicago Supervising Electricians in 1999 from the City of Chicago. As Project Executive, he will be responsible for overseeing the entire small interiors group while managing a team of estimators and project managers.

Each of these individuals has been instrumental in our company's growth and success," said President Michael Segreti. "We are confident that they will be even more effective in their new roles as REX continues to establish itself as the leader for any of Chicago's Electrical Contracting needs.
